

Up-dated August 2009

ESRC INNOGEN Centre Institute for the Study of Science, Technology and Innovation,
The University of Edinburgh
Old Surgeon's Hall
High School Yards,
Edinburgh EH1 1LZ
E-mail: gill.haddow@ed.ac.uk.

EMPLOYMENT:

- Senior Research Fellow, INNOGEN, University of Edinburgh (October 2007 – onwards).
- Research Fellow, “The public consultation of Generation Scotland: the Scottish Family Health Study (GS: SFHS)” INNOGEN, University of Edinburgh (May 2004 – April 2007).
- Research Fellow, “Evaluating the Implementation of NHS 24 in Scotland” Department of General Practice, University of Edinburgh (Feb. 2002 – April 2003).

EDUCATION:

ESRC Postdoctoral Fellowship (May 2003 – May 2004): School of Social and Political Studies, University of Edinburgh.

Ph.D. Thesis (1998 – 2001): “Organ Donation and Transplantation: The Paradox of Gifting and Dis/Embodiment”. Sociology Department, University of Edinburgh.

M.Sc.(R) Sociology and Politics of Science and Technology, Science Studies Unit, University of Edinburgh (1997/8) & MA (Honours) Sociology (1992-1997)

RESEARCH GRANTS/CONSULTANCY (Sole & principal investigator):

2009: £8000 awarded by Health Informatics Centre, University of Dundee for a focus group study on the principles of “Multi-Institutional Linkage and Anonymisation” to data sharing in the NHS.

2008-2010: £5400 awarded by Genetic Interest Group for consultancy on “Patient perspectives of Insurance Templates”.

2005-2007: £127 194 awarded by the CSO, Scottish Executive to engage with the public on the subject of a Scottish DNA databank “Generation Scotland: The Scottish Family Health Study”. This award for the consultation was part of a larger £4.4 million project. Co-investigators: Douglas Blackwood, Harry Campbell, John Connell, Mike Connor, Ian Deary, Anna Dominiczak, Ian Ford, Shona Kerr, Robbie Lindsay, Andrew Morris, Graeme Murray, Colin Palmer, Jill Pell, David Porteous, Rob Procter, Stuart Ralston, David St. Clair, Richard Sinnott, Blair Smith, Roland Wolf and Alan Wright.

2003: £8000 the Development Trust Research Fund awarded by the College of Humanities and Social Science to conduct a survey of the Edinburgh populations’ attitudes towards introducing financial incentives to organ donation.

2005: £2000 awarded by the British Academy Conference Grant to assist in the travel and subsistence costs of speakers for the purpose of the 2005 INNOGEN Evolution of the Life Science Industries Conference.

2004-2005: £1 444 Qualitative Research Consultant for the NHS 24 project

2003-2004: £25 973 awarded by the Economic and Social Research Council for a one-year Post-doctoral Fellowship.

PUBLICATION:

1. Haddow, G., Bruce, A., Calvert, J., Harmon, S., & Marsden, W. (Under review). Not “human” enough to be human but not “animal” enough to be animal – the case of the HFEA, cybrids and xenotransplantation New Genetics and Society.
2. Haddow G., Cunningham-Burley, S., Murray, L., Myant, K., & Carlsson, A. (accepted). Can the governance of a population genetic data bank effect recruitment? Evidence from the public consultation of Generation Scotland. Public Understanding of Science.

3. Haddow G. (available on-line). "We only did it because he asked us": Family accounts of recruitment to a large-scale population genetic database Social Science & Medicine.
4. Roberts, A., Heaney, D., Haddow, G., & O'Donnell, C.A. (2009). Implementation of a national nurse-led telephone health service in Scotland: assessing the consequences for remote and rural localities. Rural and Remote Health.
5. Haddow, G., Cunningham-Burley, S., Bruce, A., & Parry, S. (2008). Generation Scotland: consulting publics and specialists at an early stage in a genetic database's development. Critical Public Health, 18(2), 139 - 149.
6. Williams, B., Entwistle, V., Haddow G., and Wells, M., (2008) Promoting research participation: Why not advertise altruism? Social Science and Medicine, Vol 66, 7 1451-1456
7. Williams, B., Entwistle, V., Haddow G., and Wells M., (2008) Placing evidence in context: A response to Fry's commentary, Social Science and Medicine, Vol 66, 7, Pages 1461-1462
8. Haddow, G., O'Donnell, K and Heaney, D. (2007) "Organisational identity and its role in the provision of unscheduled immediate health care", Journal of Evaluation in Clinical Practice, Volume 13, Issue 2, Page 179-185.
9. Haddow, G., Laurie, G., Cunningham-Burley, S., & Hunter, K. (2007). Tackling Community Concerns about Commercialisation and Genetic Research: A Modest Interdisciplinary Proposal. Social Science and Medicine, 64, 272-282.
10. Smith, B., Campbell, H., Blackwood, D., Connell, J., Connor, M., Deary, I., Dominiczak, A.F., Fitzpatrick, B., Ford, I., Jackson, C., Haddow, G., Kerr, S., Lindsay, R., McGilchrist, M., Morton, R., Murray, G., Palmer, C., Pell, J., Ralston, S., St Clair, D., Sullivan, F., Watt, G., Wolf, R., Wright, A., Porteous, D., & Morris, A. (2006). "Generation Scotland: the Scottish Family Health Study: A new resource for researching genes and heritability." BMC Medical Genetics, 7, 74
11. Haddow, G. (2006). Because you're worth it? The Taking and Selling of Transplantable Organs. Journal of Medical Ethics, 32, 324-328.
12. Haddow, G. (2005) "The Phenomenology of Death, Embodiment and Organ Transplantation", Sociology of Health and Illness, Vol. 24, No. 6 pp 92 – 113.
13. Haddow, G. (2003) "Donor and non-donor families' accounts of communication and relations with healthcare professionals," Progress in Transplantation, Vol.13, No.2 pp.1 – 7.

Non-peer reviewed:

1. Gorringer, H., Haddow, G., Rafanell, I., Tulle, E., & Yuill, C. (2007). The Transformative Capacity of Embodiment. Edinburgh Working Papers in Sociology, 26(<http://www.sociology.ed.ac.uk/research/docs.html>), 1-22.
2. Cunningham-Burley, S, Haddow G., and Parry, S (2006) Walking the walk and talking the talk: Public Engagement, Genomics Network: The Newsletter for the ESRC Genomics Network. Issue Four. (October 2006)
3. Haddow, G., Cunningham-Burley, S, Bruce, A and Parry, S (2005). Genetic Databases: Friend or Foe? Genomics Network: The Newsletter for the ESRC Genomics Network. Issue Two. June 2005.
4. Haddow, G., Cunningham-Burley, S, Bruce, A and Parry, S (October 2004). Generation Scotland Preliminary Consultation Exercise 2003-04. Public and Stakeholder Views from Focus Groups and Interviews. Innogen Working Paper 20 (<http://www.innogen.ac.uk/Publications/20-Generation-Scotland>).

Book Chapters:

Haddow, G., Cunningham-Burley, S., (2008) "Tokens of Trust or Token Trust?: The case of Population Genetic Data Collections" in "Trust, Health and Illness" (eds) Alexandra Greene, Julie Brownlie and Alexandra Howson, Routledge.

SELECTED INVITED PAPERS (2006 – onwards):

Dr Gill Haddow

1. Haddow, G., (10th January 2008) Generation Scotland: Consulting about Public Biobanks, EGAN/Roche Workshop, Basel, Switzerland.
2. Haddow, G., (16th January 2007): Cadaveric Organ Donation: Family Belongings? Scottish Council on Human Bioethics, Edinburgh
3. Haddow, G., and Laurie, G., (18th August 2006) "Tackling Community Concerns regarding Commercialisation in Genetic Research: A Modest Interdisciplinary Proposal, ESRC Genomics Forum Workshop on DNA Databases and commercialization, Edinburgh.

INVITED PAPERS (2005 – onwards):

1. Haddow, G., (27 March 2008) In or Out? Organ Donation Debate hosted by Wellcome Trust, London.
2. Haddow, G., (10th January 2008) Generation Scotland: Consulting about Public Biobanks, EGAN/Roche Workshop, Basel, Switzerland.
3. Haddow, G., (16th January 2007): Cadaveric Organ Donation: Family Belongings? Scottish Council on Human Bioethics, Edinburgh
4. Haddow, G., and Laurie, G., (18th August 2006) "Tackling Community Concerns regarding Commercialisation in Genetic Research: A Modest Interdisciplinary Proposal, ESRC Genomics Forum Workshop on DNA Databases and commercialization, Edinburgh.
5. Haddow, G. (28th June 2006) 'Constructing the Gifts of the Dead Body: The Paradox of Giving & Dis/embodiment', ESRC Genomics Forum Workshop/Human Tissue Authority, London.
6. Haddow, G. (6th April 2006) "Death, Embodiment and Organ Transplants"; Department of Psychosocial Medicine, Faculty of Medicine, Dentistry and Nursing, University of Dundee.
7. Haddow, G. (5th April 2006) "Generating Public Solutions to Private Interests", Scottish School of Primary Care, Perth Royal Infirmary.
8. Haddow, G. and Laurie, G. (1st March 2006) "Tackling Community Concerns regarding Commercialisation in Genetic Research: A Modest Interdisciplinary Proposal" ESRC Genomics Forum Workshop on Genomics and Intellectual Property, Edinburgh
9. Haddow, G. (18th June 2005) "Because you're worth it: The Taking and Selling of Transplantable organs", Scottish Executive: Scottish Transplant Group, Edinburgh.
10. Haddow, G., and Cunningham-Burley, (24th May 2005) "Public Consultation and Engagement: The Case of Population Genetic Data Collections" Tayside Centre of Department of General Practice, University of Dundee.
11. Haddow, G. (26th April 2005), "Profit Pay-Off; Public solutions to private interests?" E-genis Seminar Series, University of Exeter.
12. Haddow, G., (1st March 2005), The Ethical, Legal and Social Aspects of Generation Scotland, Chief Scientist Office, Public Engagement Group, Edinburgh

ACCEPTED PAPERS (peer reviewed):

1. Haddow, G. (August 2003) The Embodiment of Identity and Obligation: Resolving the Organ Donation and Transplantation Paradox. European Sociology Association, Murcia, Spain.
2. Haddow G. (22-24 March 2004) British Sociological Association, "Conflict, Anxiety and Discontent," University of York,
3. Haddow, G. (12-14 April 2005) Cesagen Conference: "Benefit-sharing: Public/s solutions to private interests", Royal Society, London

UNDER-GRADUATE TEACHING:

- Sociology Lecturer, University of Edinburgh, Identity, Death and Organ Transplantation (Nov 2008, Nov 2009)
- Temporary Sociology Lecturer, University of Edinburgh "The Social Construction of Death, the Body and its Parts (Feb 2002) and "Death, Embodiment and Identity" (Nov 2003).

Dr Gill Haddow

- Tutor/Demonstrator NUD*IST QSR 4, University of Edinburgh (Feb. 2001): Assistant Course Convenor, Sociology 2, University of Edinburgh (2000/2001, 2001/2002): Course Assistant, Sociology 2, University of Edinburgh (2000/2001, 2001/2002): Tutor: Sociology 1 (1997/1998, 1998/1999) and Sociology 2 (1999/2000, 2000/2001, 2001/2002, 2003/2004).

POST-GRADUATE TEACHING:

- Teach and co-convene Research Skills in the Social Sciences: Data Collection with Richard Freeman (2008&2009)
- "Because you're worth it? Alternative Organ Procurement Systems"; Bioethics and Genetics, Public Health, Edinburgh University: Course convener Dr Nina Hallowell (2006)
- "Public Engagement and DNA databanks": Masters/Diploma in Quantitative Genetics and Genome Analysis, MRC Unit Edinburgh University: Course convener Dr Shona Kerr (March 2006)
- "In Modern Society Do Dead People Die?" Masters in Sociology of Health and Illness, Edinburgh University, Course convener Dr. Aditya Bharadwaj (2005)
- "Ethical, Legal and Social Aspects of DNA Databanks" Laboratory Research Techniques in Human Genetics: MRC Unit, Wellcome Trust, Western General Hospital, Course convener Dr Shona Kerr (2004&2005)
- "Death, Organs and Identity": Public Health, Public Health Unit, Edinburgh University, Course convener Professor Sarah Cunningham-Burley (2004&2005&2008)
- "Researching Sensitive Topics: an Insiders View": Centre for Research in Family and Relationships, Edinburgh University: Course convener Professor Sarah Cunningham-Burley (2005)
- "Death, Dying and Disposal Sociological Perspectives on Health, University of Abertay, Dundee: Course convener Dr Alex Howson." (2003 & 2004)

GENERAL CONTRIBUTIONS:

- Journal and Book Referee: Social Science & Medicine, Sociology of Health & Illness, New England Journal of Medicine, Critical Public Health, Journal of Medical Ethics, Open University Press, Genomics Society and Policy, Science as Culture
- Grant Referee: ESRC, Department of Health, Wellcome Trust.
- Newspaper Articles: 'One in Five Scots back cash for Organs Plan', Sunday Herald, 11 June 2006, p. 7
- Editorial Board of journal, Genomics, Society and Policy (2005 – present)
- Member of International Working Group on Ethics, Governance and Public Engagement: Public Population Project in Genomics (P3G) consortium (2005 – present)
- Member of Lothian Research Ethics Committee (2000-2004)
- INNOGEN seminar series organiser (2005 – 2008)
- Member of GS: SFHS scientific committee (2005 – present)
- Member of stakeholder platform of Scottish Branch Genetic Interest Group (2006 – present)
- Stream contributor to INNOGEN annual conference (February 2005)
- Various Sociology Honour/Master student dissertations (2003-2006).